WEEK ENDING 7th JANUARY 2022

Welcome back and a Happy New Year!

COVID TESTING

Thank you to all those parents who tested their children before returning to school this week.

From next week if any children receive a positive result from a lateral flow test, it will no longer be necessary to confirm the result with a PCR test - children will isolate from the date of the lateral flow result. The isolation period is seven days providing a negative lateral flow result is received on days 6 and 7 of the isolation period. If any household members have a positive Covid result, children will not need to isolate but it is advised that they take a lateral flow test for the next 7 days. There are still some lateral flow test kits available in school for any children that need them.
